Pen Pals:

Luke Ramsey and Islands Fold

March 12-May 13, 2012

Bob Prittie Library

Luke Ramsey is an artist based on Pender Island, BC. Since 2005, in partnership with Angela Conley, Ramsey has operated Islands Fold, an independent publisher and artist residency focused on solo projects, collaboration, health and well being. The residency is sustained through online purchase of books/zines and artworks. This exhibition features selected collaborative works from zines published by Islands Fold, with each work representing a different collaboration between Luke and another artist. Harold Klunder:

Works from the Furlan Collection of Contemporary Canadian Prints

March 13-May 14, 2012

McGill Library & Shadbolt Centre Display Case

This exhibition features a number of stone lithographs completed by Canadian artist Harold Klunder at Toronto's Open Studio with the assistance of then resident, master lithographer Torrie Groening. These prints, all dating from 1987 and 1988, are part of the City of Burnaby Permanent Art Collection's Furlan Collection of Contemporary Canadian Prints and have been part of the art collection since 1990.

An essay by Torrie Groening about working with Klunder at Open Studio has been prepared for the Burnaby Art Gallery's website:
