

Look and Be Seen

As the winter months approach, it's noticeably wet, rainy, and darker on the roads. Drivers and pedestrians share road safety responsibilities.

Here are some safety tips for pedestrians:

Be visible. Ensure you wear reflective clothing when you're out. Drivers have difficulty seeing pedestrians who are wearing dark colored clothing.

Use designated cross walks.

Cross the street or intersection using designated crosswalks. If a crosswalk is not available, make sure to find a well-lit area on the road to cross. Obey the rules of the road and don't jaywalk.

Stay alert. Avoid distractions such as your phone or headphones when walking. Keep your eyes up and ears open for traffic and other pedestrians around you.

Make eye contact. Don't assume that drivers can see you. Ensure that you make eye contact and acknowledge drivers.
